

"We are looking to build philanthropic partnerships with visionaries who want to change the world through investments in health and medicine. No one can deliver on that investment better than Harvard Medical School."

— Dean George Q. Daley, AB '82, MD '91, PhD

CAMPAIGN TIMELINE

On November 13, 2014, Harvard Medical School (HMS) officially launched The World Is Waiting: The Campaign for Harvard Medicine, a transformative $750 million fundraising effort. The HMS campaign is part of the broader campaign launched by Harvard University.

CAMPAIGN ASPIRATIONS AND PRIORITIES

EDUCATION
Training the next generation of leaders in science and medicine

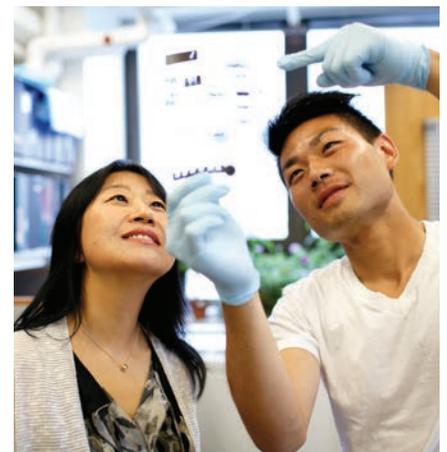

DISCOVERY
Illuminating the cause of disease and advancing lifesaving cures

SERVICE
Shaping health care policy and transforming health systems worldwide

LEADERSHIP
Incubating innovation and piloting change to improve human health

Funds raised in the Campaign will have a tangible impact by:

- Decreasing student indebtedness so careers are shaped by interest and passion as opposed to financial pressures
- Transforming medical education to prepare future leaders in both basic science and clinical care
- Incubating innovation in biomedical research and discovery
- Advancing drug discovery through therapeutic innovation
- Strengthening health systems and policies in the U.S. and around the world
- Revitalizing our campus to catalyze collaboration and entrepreneurial translation
- Fostering a culture that celebrates diversity of thought and experience

HARVARD MEDICAL SCHOOL ALUMNI

Harvard Medical School graduates serve as preeminent physicians nationally and abroad—in major hospitals, private practices, community health centers—and as researchers and leaders in the academic, business, and policy-making sectors that are key to improving health outcomes worldwide. We are proud of and grateful for the work of HMS alumni as exemplars of our mission in action and as ambassadors for this transformative campaign.
